WFZC will be visiting the exciting city of Hyderabad, India for our Ninth Convention between the 7th & 10th December and I have much pleasure in inviting you to join us.

Since our last event in Charleston, USA, the world's Free Zones have witnessed some of the toughest financial constraints for decades. However the choice of India is serendipitous - no other country has seen such explosive growth in Zones over the past few years since the legislative framework was established in 2005/6.

According to the Columbia Law School's Earth Institute the recession and financial crisis have already led to a reduction by 15% of world FDI flows in 2008 and maybe even more in 2009. At the same time the need for such investment, and especially policy decisions that encourage investment that will contribute to a robust and sustainable recovery, are ever more important.

Our Ninth Convention will address these issues and analyse how zones can benefit from the credit crunch by attracting companies looking to mitigate the effects of the downturn. More than ever zones, and the authorities who supervise them, need to understand how investors are redefining value and responding to changing elasticity curves. Investors are taking longer to complete location searches and negotiate harder for favourable terms and benefits.

Continuing involvement on the world scene projects strength and stability and provides valuable differentiation that will contribute to increasing zone use more rapidly in the short term, and toward building a zone's long-term success.

Our WFZC Monthly Zones Activity Report has highlighted the increasing cross border nature of zone establishment. In addition Asian countries such as India are following China's path to Africa, including offering favourable market access to their markets. We will discuss these and other trends during the Two Day International Conference and Exhibition on the 9th & 10th December.

Once again we are offering a full range of optional Training Courses and Workshops on the 7th & 8th December just prior to the Conference and Exhibition. This year for the first time we have arranged a Two Day Pharmaceutical and Biotechnology Business Development Course to assist participants gain a better understanding of the way that location and other decisions are made in these industries.

Let's meet in Hyderabad to compare notes and share experiences, to renew old acquaintances and to be a part of the Free Zone movement worldwide.

Graham Mather, Chairman
World Free Zone Convention

HYDERABAD is the capital city of Andhra Pradesh which spreads over the Deccan Plateau, and is the fifth largest metropolitan city in India and one of the fastest growing. Hyderabad can be reached by direct flights from many parts of the world. If there is no connection from your country, you can fly to Mumbai (Bombay), Delhi or Chennai (Madras) and take a short domestic flight.

Also known as City of Nizams, Hyderabad is an astonishing blend of ancestral heritage with the modern IT sector - beautiful, ancient palaces stand alongside modern and state-of-the-art offices and buildings.

Hyderabad is home to more than 50 notified SEZs (FTZs), including all leading IT companies and financial institutions and is world known for its Pharmaceuticals & Formulations companies.

The famous Charminar monument lies right in the heart of Hyderabad. Other attractions include the the Salar Jung museum, and the Golconda Fort from where the world renowned Kohinoor diamond was extracted.

Indian and Persian architecture and marble artistry combine on Qutub Shahi and Paigah tombs. Hyderabad is a city that is also famous for its beautiful parks and gardens and the important Birla Planetarium. Average temperatures in early December are Max 28 C. and Min 15 C. with light humidity and little rainfall.

Be pro-active - make up a delegation

As we have seen at recent events countries which make up a delegation to attend our meetings are enhancing their prospects for the future. Delegations can include government representatives, ports, airports and customs officials, regional authorities, bankers and developers, Free Zone operators and local investors. Names can be confirmed at a later date.

Sponsorship opportunities and Exhibition stands

Please contact the organisers for more details.

VISAS

Foreign national coming into India are required to possess a valid passport/ travel document of their country and a valid Indian visa. There is no provision of "Visa on Arrival". The organisers have appointed an Indian Agency to assist with issuing visas and support letters. Full details will be sent to delegates on registration. For more information please check our website which also has a link to a list of Indian Embassies. The organisers will make every effort to make the visa application straightforward. However delegates should plan ahead and find details from the Indian Embassy in their own country.

GMR is one of the fastest growing infrastructure groups in India with interests in Airports, Energy, Highways, Urban Infrastructure (including SEZs), Sports and Agri Business. Employing the Public Private Partnership (PPP) model, the Group has successfully implemented several infrastructure projects in India. GMR Hyderabad International Airport Limited (GHIAL) was formed to design, finance, build, operate and maintain the greenfield Rajiv Gandhi International Airport (RGIA) on 5,495 acres in Shamshabad, located 25 km from the city centre of Hyderabad. This is the first PPP project in the Indian airport infrastructure sector and commenced operations in March 2008. RGIA provides world-class facilities and infrastructure conforming to ICAO standards and practices. RGIA was awarded the Leadership Energy and Environment Design (LEED) silver rating for its eco-friendly design.

GMR is developing three SEZs in India, the multi-product Krishnagiri SEZ spread over 3300 acres near Bangalore, and two airport centric SEZs at RGIA namely the "Aviation SEZ" and "Logistics and Multi Product SEZ" of 250 acres each. The AVIATION SEZ is the first of its kind in India and would house units for design engineering, aviation centre, aircraft maintenance, repair overhaul and aircraft engine mechanical training in the initial phase. A joint venture between GHIAL and Malaysian Airline System (MAS), is already in place for developing the MRO facility and CFM, one the world's leading aircraft engine manufacturer is setting up an engine training facility in this SEZ. The multiproduct KRISHANGIRI SEZ would focus on high end knowledge based emerging sectors and the first phase is being launched for Solar - PV sector. This zone has the twin advantages of being adjacent to the globally renowned Electronics City - Bangalore.

TOURS AND VISITS - The organisers have selected a local tour operator to arrange local visits and tours.
